We need a Product Owner (M/F/X)

Start date
As soon as possible

Location
Aachen or Cologne, Germany

Who we are

Taxy.io is an award-winning tech startup that brings tax and legal advice to the next level with artificially intelligent software. Our solutions help leading tax and law firms in Germany and Austria to consult their clients in a faster and better way.

Who we are looking for

We are looking for a Product Owner (m/f/x) to join our team of product managers, developers and tax experts to help deliver cutting-edge technology solutions for the tax and legal sectors.

As Product Owner you will play a key role in driving the software development lifecycle and delivering the product roadmap as part of our Scrum team. Your strong technical understanding will help you translate stakeholder needs into specifications for the development team, covering diverse topics such as on-prem system architecture, APIs, machine learning models and third-party integrations.

At the same time, you'll need to think creatively about solving complex technical and conceptual problems, such as implementing recommended courses of action for tax advisors and their clients. A key aspect of your role will be to balance end user needs (of tax advisors) and customer needs (of tax/law firms) with those of our business. You enjoy owning KPIs to evaluate product quality and facilitate continuous improvement.

If you are passionate about making good products that really help people in their everyday work, and you want to enjoy the process of doing so, this role is for you!

Responsibilities

- Drive the product development lifecycle from generating ideas to specifying, evaluating and improving them according to lean principles
- Translate customer and business needs into technical requirements for the development team
- Backlog grooming to ensure a steady flow of well-prepared issues for development
- Contribute to the product roadmap and ensure that features deliver positive business impact
- Define and own KPIs to measure progress and enable continuous improvement

About you

- 3+ years of experience as a Product Owner or Manager
- Strong technical expertise (microservices, APIs, software frameworks) – previous experience as a developer or similar is an advantage
- Enjoy solving tricky problems by breaking them down into manageable chunks
- Excellent communication skills and ability to speak to diverse stakeholders (developers, managers, tax experts, designers)
- Enthusiastic about working in a fast-paced startup environment
- Strong interest in new technologies and willingness to learn new things
- Fluent in English; German is a plus

What you can expect

As a Product Owner at Taxy.io you will shape the future of our product suite feature by feature and from start to finish, continuously improving the user experience. You will play a central role in the software development lifecycle, working closely together with the entire team. You can also expect:

- Dealing with responsibility and working as a member of a great agile team consisting of software engineers, data scientists, tax experts and startup managers
- Working in a young company on developing innovative products in the legal and tax sector with the chance to disrupt an industry
- The opportunity to grow professionally and personally
- Flexible working hours and the possibility for remote working
- Beautiful and centrally located offices in Aachen and Cologne
- A competitive salary
- Optional trainings for individual topics in our "Taxy.io Academy"
- Most importantly, enjoying what you do!

How to apply

Please submit your CV, desired starting date and a salary expectation to hr@taxy.io and include 'Product Owner' in the subject line.

For more information visit our website www.taxy.io or check our profile on LinkedIn.